

School of Medicine partners with Covenant Health System

Covenant Health System Chief Medical Officer Scott Robins, M.D.; Cynthia Jumper, M.D., chair, TTUHSC School of Medicine Department of Internal Medicine; Kyungah Nam; and Jongyeol Kim, M.D.

The School of Medicine has partnered with Covenant Health System to establish the Covenant Health System Endowed Chair in Cerebrovascular Disease.

Jongyeol Kim, M.D., associate professor, School of Medicine Department of Neurology, was named to the chair position.

“This chair will be an important element in providing the highest level of care to stroke patients in our region,” said School of Medicine Dean Steven Berk, M.D. “The program will attract faculty who can partner with Covenant medical staff to better provide care for stroke patients.”
