AAPS Graduate Student Award in Quality-by-Design	$1000 cash	5/9/13	Selection will be made on the basis of the student judged by the

and Product Performance	award; plaque		committee to have provided the most outstanding contributions in the above field through their graduate research. There are no citizenship requirements for this award. All interested candidates are encouraged to apply. Students must be in their final year of graduate studies leading to the doctorate degree (or will be awarded their doctorate in 2013).
AAPS Graduate Student Symposium Award in Analysis And Pharmaceutical Quality	$250 cash award; registration to annual meeting; $1000 travel award	5/8/13	This program recognizes excellence in graduate education in the fields of pharmaceuticals, bioanalytical chemistry and pharmaceutical analysis. The APQ Section of AAPS is pleased to support the continuation of excellence in education in the pharmaceutical sciences. There are no citizenship requirements for this award and all interested candidates are encouraged to apply. Your research may be submitted to only one AAPS graduate symposium committee for consideration or your submission will be disqualified from all symposia. Students must be in their final year of graduate studies leading to the Ph.D. degree (or will be awarded their Ph.D. in 2013). On the basis of submitted abstracts and summaries, four students will be selected to present their research at the Graduate Student Symposium at the AAPS Annual Meeting and Exposition.
AAPS Graduate Student Symposium Award in Biotechnology	$250 cash award; registration to annual meeting; $1000 travel award	5/8/13	This program recognizes excellence in graduate education in the field of biotechnology. The Biotechnology Section of AAPS is pleased to support the continuation of excellence in education in the pharmaceutical sciences. There are no citizenship requirements for this award and all interested candidates are encouraged to apply. Your research may be submitted to only one AAPS graduate symposium committee for consideration or your submission will be disqualified from all symposia. Students must be in their final year of graduate studies leading to the Ph.D. degree (or will be awarded their Ph.D. in 2013). Selection will be made on the basis of those students judged by the committee to have provided the most outstanding contributions in the above field through their graduate research.
AAPS Graduate Student Symposium in Formulation Design and Development	$250 cash award; registration to annual meeting; $1000 travel award	5/8/13	This program is designed to recognize excellence in graduate education in the fields of formulation design and development. There are no citizenship requirements for this award. All interested candidates are encouraged to apply. Your research may be submitted to only one AAPS graduate symposium committee for consideration or your submission will be disqualified from all symposia. Students must be in their final year of graduate studies leading to the doctorate degree (or will be awarded their doctorate in 2013).
