Information regarding program curricula and other program-specific information can be found in the GSBS Catalog.

SECTION 1. Programs of the Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences

The Graduate School of Biomedical Sciences (GSBS) of the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center (TTUHSC) was established in 1991 by the First Called Session of the 72nd Legislature in HB1 and authorized in January 1994 by the Texas Higher Education Coordinating Board (THECB). The Faculty of the GSBS shall participate in the governance of the Graduate Programs authorized by the THECB as existing within TTUHSC. The governance of these programs shall be in accord with the authority vested in the GSBS Faculty by the State of Texas, the THECB, the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC), the TTUHSC Board of Regents, and the TTU System Chancellor. Degrees granted by GSBS Graduate Programs authorized under TTUHSC by the THECB shall be awarded through TTUHSC. All new programs, including interdisciplinary programs, approved by the THECB for offering through TTUHSC GSBS shall be governed by these bylaws. All proposed Ph.D. and M.S. programs from GSBS shall be reviewed by the GSBS Graduate Council before they are submitted to the TTUHSC Board of Regents and the THECB.

SECTION 2. Membership in the GSBS Faculty

General. For GSBS membership, TTUHSC faculty members must have a primary appointment in the TTUHSC School of Medicine or Jerry H. Hodge School of Pharmacy. Prospective full, associate, and affiliate members must be: (1) recommended for membership by a majority of the voting GSBS members in the sponsoring graduate concentration/program; and (2) approved for GSBS membership by the GSBS Graduate Council and the Dean.

2.1 Membership Categories. A GSBS graduate faculty member may hold memberships in multiple concentrations/programs but may be a full member in only one concentration/program. Full, associate, and affiliate memberships apply to TTUHSC faculty with a primary appointment in the School of Medicine or Jerry H. Hodge School of Pharmacy only. GSBS graduate faculty membership privileges vary according to category:

FULL MEMBER - This membership status most appropriately represents the faculty member’s primary qualifications and career interests. Full members have all membership privileges (a-e) listed in Subsection 2.2.

ASSOCIATE MEMBER - This membership status is primarily for the purpose of teaching and officially chairing and/or serving on student advisory committees. This level of membership does not require the GSBS graduate faculty member to be a member of another concentration/program. Membership privileges under this category are limited to privileges (a), (b), and (e) listed in Subsection 2.2.

AFFILIATE MEMBER - This exclusive membership status is for faculty associated with the Biotechnology and Graduate Medical Education Sciences programs only and who are full members in a graduate concentration/program. Membership privileges under this category are limited to privileges (a), (b), (c), and (d) listed in Subsection 2.2.

ADJUNCT MEMBER - Membership privileges under this category include: (a) limited teaching (i.e., <3 lectures) in a graduate level course; and/or (b) serving as a voting member on a student’s advisory committee.

The adjunct membership status applies to the following individuals with appropriate qualifications: (1) faculty in the Texas Tech University System (TTUS), including all TTUHSC faculty members, regardless of school affiliation; (2) faculty with a graduate appointment at another accredited college/university outside the TTUS; (3) professionals without graduate faculty status at an accredited college/university; and/or (4) retired TTUHSC faculty, including emeritus appointments, at the discretion of the concentration/program. TTUHSC faculty members serving on a student’s committee under a different GSBS membership category (i.e., full, associate, affiliate) at the time of retirement may continue to serve in that capacity until the student graduates.

The adjunct membership will be in effect for the duration of the designated teaching and/or committee assignment only.

2.2 Membership Privileges. Depending on the membership category, membership privileges may include:

(a) teaching and/or serving as the instructor of record in a graduate level course;

(b) serving on student advisory committees as chair and/or a voting member of the committee;

(c) voting on issues pertaining to curriculum requirements, graduate course content, election of new faculty members, and changes in the specific guidelines within the graduate concentration/program;

(d) serving as a representative on the GSBS Graduate Council or on any committee appointed by the GSBS Graduate Council, GSBS graduate faculty or GSBS Dean, and voting in the election of members to the GSBS Graduate Council; and

(e) voting in the election of officers of the GSBS graduate faculty and on general GSBS issues. GSBS graduate faculty holding multiple memberships may cast only one vote in the election of officers and on general GSBS issues.
2.3 Membership Criteria. Criteria for graduate faculty membership within the GSBS include: (a) possession of the terminal academic degree in the field, or recognition for substantive and distinctive contributions in the related discipline; (b) tangible evidence of ongoing productivity in scholarly research and/or creative activity; and (c) successful experience in (or potential for) teaching, advising, and/or guidance of students at the graduate level. The guidelines for fulfilling these three criteria shall be established by the sponsoring Department Chair, Graduate Advisor/Program Director, and faculty of the individual GSBS concentrations/programs in accordance with appropriate accreditation requirements.

2.4 Membership Process. To nominate a faculty member for GSBS membership or to modify a current GSBS membership, excluding adjunct memberships, the Department Chair (or Program Director, as applicable) conducts a vote of the GSBS members in the sponsoring graduate concentration/program. All prospective full, associate, and affiliate faculty members must be recommended for membership by a majority of the voting GSBS members in the sponsoring graduate concentration/program. Discontinuation of membership does not require a concentration/program vote.

If the sponsoring graduate concentration/program approves the proposed GSBS membership or modification via majority vote, the Department Chair (or Program Director) will submit the completed Graduate Faculty Nomination or Change in Status form to the designated GSBS staff member. The form must include the signature of the proposed faculty member, voting results with a signature certifying those results, and signature of the Department Chair or Program Director, as applicable. This form must be accompanied by the appropriate documentation of credentials, as described in Subsection 2.5.

The nomination and related documentation will be reviewed by the Dean and Senior Associate Dean. Upon the Dean’s recommendation, the GSBS Graduate Council (GC) will vote on the recommended new membership or modification to membership. Discontinuation of membership does not require a GC vote and will be presented to the GC as an announcement only.

To nominate a faculty member for an adjunct GSBS membership or to modify a current adjunct membership, the Department Chair (or Program Director) will submit the completed Graduate Faculty Nomination or Change in Status form to the designated GSBS staff member. The form must include the signature of the proposed faculty member and signature of the Department Chair or Program Director, as applicable. This form must be accompanied by the appropriate documentation of credentials, as described in Subsection 2.5. For adjunct members with teaching responsibilities, it will be the course director’s responsibility to confirm that such members are qualified to teach the assigned graduate course topics. Adjunct memberships will be presented to the GC as an announcement only.

2.5 Faculty Credentials. TTUHSC OP 60.09 (Faculty Recruitment Procedure) outlines the documentation required to remain in compliance with faculty credentialing requirements of external governing bodies, such as the Southern Association of Colleges and Schools Commission on Colleges (SACSCOC). In compliance with this policy, GSBS keeps the following:
(a) official academic transcripts,
(b) official course-by-course transcript evaluations for international degrees,
(c) curriculum vitae (CV), and
(d) other documentation of qualifications in its faculty membership files.

For full, associate, and affiliate members, documents (a) and (c) are required, as listed above. If applicable, (b) must be provided for international transcripts, and (d) may be requested if additional qualifications are necessary to justify the courses which the proposed faculty member will teach. Only (c) is required for adjunct members.

During the GSBS membership application process, every effort should be made to obtain the required documentation from the hiring department. Upon acceptance of GSBS membership, each GSBS faculty member may also be required to provide updated documentation periodically for reporting purposes.

2.6 Review of GSBS Faculty Membership. Each GSBS graduate faculty member, excluding adjunct members, shall be recommended for renewal within the sponsoring concentration/program at 5-year intervals, with recommendations acted upon (approved or disapproved) by the GSBS Graduate Council and the GSBS Dean. Any graduate faculty member who no longer demonstrates evidence of meeting the criteria described above in Subsection 2.3, will be notified of their deficiencies and placed on probation for a period of up to two years. If deficiencies remain at the end of the probationary period, membership with GSBS will be discontinued.

All GSBS graduate faculty members are expected to understand and conduct themselves in accordance with the performance criteria for their particular position and with all rules, procedures, and standards of conduct established by TTUS, TTUHSC, and GSBS policies and procedures. A GSBS graduate faculty member who does not fulfill the responsibilities established by such performance criteria, rules, procedures and standards of conduct, or who violates standards established by TTUS, TTUHSC, or GSBS policies and procedures, may be subject to discontinuation from GSBS membership by the GSBS Dean.

For any instance in which disciplinary action is brought, the faculty member to be disciplined has full access to those avenues of appeal and redress afforded by the sponsoring graduate concentration/program and/or GSBS Dean.
