TTUHSC Schedules Community Open House to Celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month

WHAT: Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center (TTUHSC) will host a Community Open House to celebrate Hispanic Heritage Month.

WHEN: 6 - 8 p.m.
Oct. 11 (Tuesday)

WHERE: TTUHSC campus
1674 Pine St.

EVENT: Since 1968, Americans have come together to celebrate the history, culture and contributions of American citizens whose ancestors came from Mexico, Spain, the Caribbean and Central and South America. TTUHSC this year will observe National Hispanic Heritage Month from Sept. 15 to Oct. 15 with events, webinars and celebrations.

To help commemorate Hispanic Heritage Month, TTUHSC will host an open house for the Abilene community. Visitors will have opportunities to tour the campus and learn about the resources TTUHSC provides to the Abilene community in an effort to champion service to the area's diverse communities.

TTUHSC, designated a Hispanic-Serving Institution by the U.S. Department of Education, continues to strengthen its ongoing efforts to recruit and support underrepresented students, grow a more diversified faculty and better serve its communities as a comprehensive health care institution.

Those attending the event should check in at the visitor's entrance on the east side of the campus. Food trucks will be on site with items for purchase. For more information, email Michael Gutierrez (michael.gutierrez@ttuhsc.edu) or call (325) 696-0436
