

Global Perspectives Film Series

featuring
Clínica de Migrantes

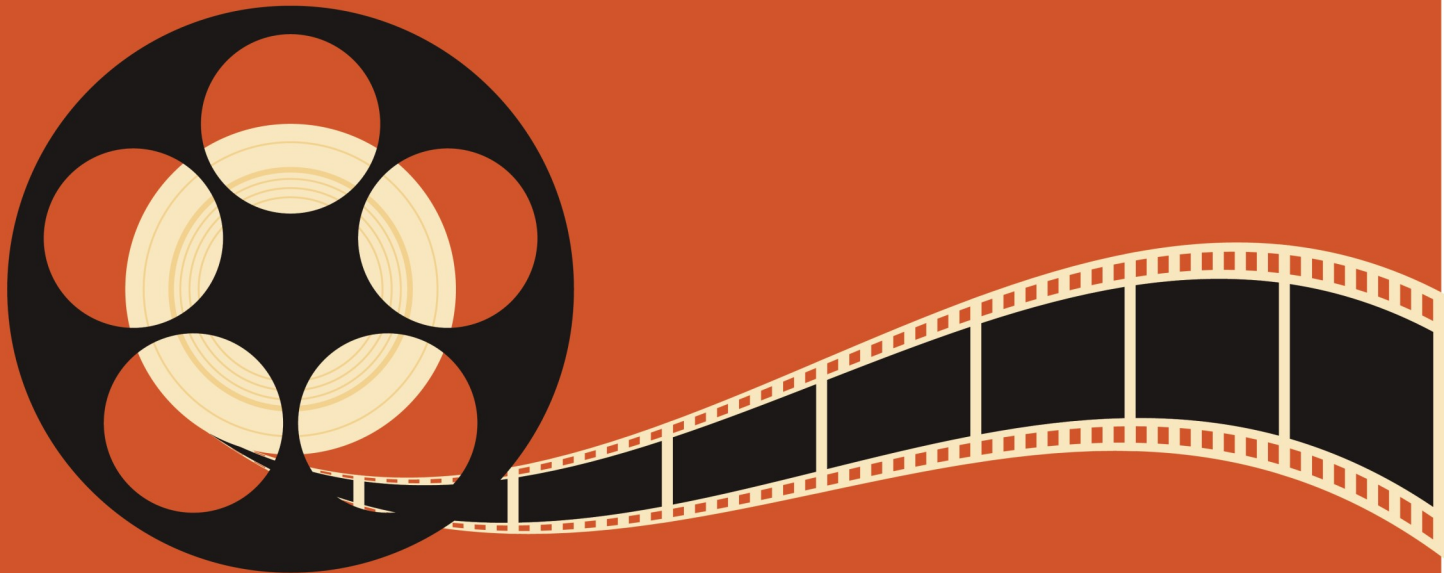

Thursday, April 12
Noon, 1C125

Puentes de Salud is a volunteer-run clinic that provides free medical care to undocumented immigrants in south Philadelphia. Here, doctors and nurses work for free to serve people who would otherwise fall through the cracks.

Clínica de Migrantes, a potent film by Maxim Pozdorovkin, follows the workers and patients of Puentes through months of routine care and growth. Along the way, the film puts a face to the millions of people who exist on the margins of society: people displaced from their homelands, separated from their families, unfamiliar with the customs, unable to obtain health insurance, and terrified to come forward to seek medical help.

Along with revealing these patient stories, Clínica is also a look at the heroic doctors and nurses who work pro bono to ensure these patients receive care, offering a deeply moving look at the limitless potential of humanity.

Following the 40 minute screening, Dr. Steve Larson, one of the physicians featured in the film, will be present at TTUHSC to speak briefly about his experience at Puentes and answer questions.

Free pizza will be provided to the first 50 attendees!

This event is free and open to the public. No RSVP is necessary.
