

Spring 2024 GLOBAL HEALTH LECTURE SERIES

A Family Systems Lens to Inform Elder Abuse and Neglect Practice

Featuring

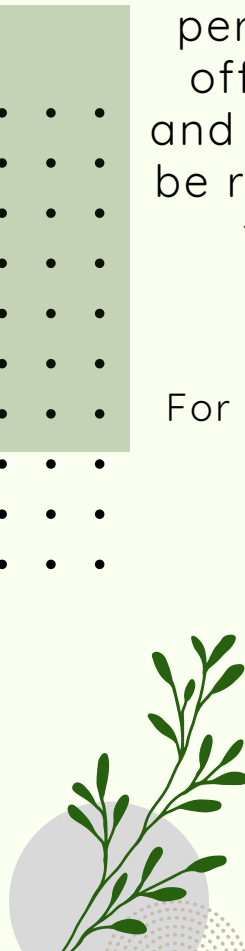

Athena Chan, Ph.D.

Department of Human Development & Family Sciences
Texas Tech University

Wednesday, February 21, 2024

12:00 PM - 1:00 PM

Zoom (register here)

A large number of elder abuse and neglect incidents are perpetrated by family members. Family systems theory offers a valuable lens to inform and guide elder abuse and neglect practice and interventions. Core concepts will be reviewed, and application to practice will be discussed to address the gaps between theory and practice.

This event is free and open to the public.

No RSVP is required.

For more information about the lecture series, please contact the Office of Global Health by email or visit our website.

