

Password and Proxy Server Access to Electronic Resources

Proxy Server

Online books, journals, and databases are available through the TTUHSC Libraries' home page. Typically, licensure agreements limit access to TTUHSC affiliated faculty, staff, and students. "Off-site" access to these resources is available to these patrons through a proxy server.

When you click on an online resource from a computer that is not within the TTUHSC system, such as from your home, the proxy server will prompt you for your HSC eRaider username and password.

If you are affiliated with TTUHSC and do not have an eRaider username or you are having problems, please contact Information Services at your campus. In Lubbock, the phone number is 806-743-2870; Amarillo: 806-354-5404; El Paso: 915-545-6800; and Odessa: 432-335-5108.

Online Books

The TTUHSC Libraries' online book collection is located under the "Research Tools" section on the TTUHSC Libraries' home page. If you are trying to access an electronic book from a computer not within the TTUHSC system, you will be required to enter your HSC eRaider username and password.

Online Journals

The TTUHSC Libraries' online journal collection is located under the "Research Tools" section. Mouse-over "Online Journals" and click on "Gold Rush". If you are accessing an online journal from a computer not within the TTUHSC system, you will be required to enter your HSC eRaider username and password. Some online journals will require an additional password. When an additional password is required, instructions are provided in the "Dates Available" section of Gold Rush.

Databases

A database is a specialty-specific, organized collection of information. Some databases such as CINAHL and MEDLINE allow the user to locate full-text articles. Often, there is a limited number of simultaneous users allowed, so users must log off when finished. Always log onto a database from the TTUHSC Libraries' homepage. EXAM MASTER OnLine™ requires an additional username and password to log on. These are created by the user.

Online Reserves

Each course EReserves webpage will have its own unique password created by the course instructor. If you have forgotten the password, please contact your instructor.
