

SPORTDiscus!

- Looking for reliable information about sports medicine for research?
- Need information, but have little time to look for it?
- Want to share research information with others?

We have a database to help you ...

SPORTDiscus™ is recognized as the leading research database covering sport, exercise, fitness, sports medicine, and other sports related disciplines. It contains over 440 titles, and also offers comprehensive, bibliographic coverage of sport, fitness and related disciplines. It features more than 1,500,000 records with coverage of journals and smaller scholarly works dating to 1800, as well as over 20,000 dissertations, theses and references to articles written in 60 world languages.

Create highly-targeted searches with tools unavailable from large Web search engines and find relevant results from scholarly journals and other reliable sources.

Alert! Need articles from a specific journal? Looking for articles of five pages or more about a topic? Through the available My EBSCOhost feature, you can set up search and journal alerts according to your specifications. You will then be notified by e-mail or RSS feed on a regular basis as to what new materials are available on SPORTDiscus™ that match your particular research interests.

Easily share information with others. Simply copy the persistent link to reference information on your result list, and pass it along to others that you feel would benefit from reading the same information. As long as they are authorized users, they can simply click on the electronic link you send to receive immediate access to article information.
