

2ND ANNUAL WEST TEXAS HEALTH DISPARITIES RESEARCH SYMPOSIUM

SYMPOSIUM SUMMARY

Texas Tech University System Health Policy and Public Health Think Tank, TTUHSC Office of Accredited Interprofessional Continuing Medical Education, and AHEC of the Plains is proud to announce the 2nd Annual West Texas Health Disparities Research Symposium. The Texas Tech University System spans from Dallas to El Paso, and the health disparity challenges vary greatly across the region. This symposium aims to provide a forum to share various works regarding health disparities and approaches to addressing health equity challenges in the West Texas region. Attendees will learn from distinguished national keynote speakers, panelists, and interactive discussions from various healthcare professionals across the West Texas region and different institutions within the Texas Tech University System.

SYMPOSIUM OBJECTIVES

1. Identify current health care disparities afflicting West Texas
2. Present primary and secondary data related to healthcare disparities in West Texas
3. Propose current or prospective interventions or strategies that address healthcare disparities in West Texas
