TTUHSC Undergraduate Nursing Named Among Nation's Best Colleges by U.S. News & World Report

The undergraduate nursing program at the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center (TTUHSC School of Nursing) ranked No. 135 out of 671 Bachelor of Science in Nursing programs in the Best National Universities category by U.S. News & World Report. The 2027 edition of the U.S. News Best Colleges rankings evaluated more than 1,700 U.S. colleges and universities, using up to 17 factors to measure academic quality and graduate success.

TTUHSC Undergraduate Nursing Program at a Glance – 2027 Best Colleges Rankings:

- Ranked nationally in the top 20.1% among Bachelor of Science in Nursing programs at National Universities, a category of institutions that offer a range of undergraduate majors as well as master's and doctoral programs and emphasize faculty research.
- Ranked second among undergraduate nursing programs at health science centers in Texas, tied with the University of Texas Medical Branch at Galveston.
- Overall, in Texas, it ranked as the fifth highest among Bachelor of Science in Nursing programs at public institutions and seventh highest among public or private institutions.

TTUHSC Executive Vice President of Academic Affairs and Provost Darrin D'Agostino, D.O., MPH, said this national recognition underscores TTUHSC's position as a leader in health sciences education.

"This ranking reflects TTUHSC's dedication to preparing future professionals in the field of nursing to meet the evolving needs of patients and communities across Texas and the nation," D'Agostino said. "We are honored to be recognized and remain focused on delivering transformative educational experiences for our students."

U.S. News publishes the Best Colleges rankings each year to provide prospective students and their families with the comparative merits of the undergraduate programs at America's colleges and universities. The rankings, which date back to 1983, offer detailed information on the institutions and data on key metrics such as graduation rates and post-graduate earnings.
