MLK Day of Service

The Martin Luther King Jr. holiday on Jan. 18, 2021, marks the 27th anniversary of the day of service that celebrates the Civil Rights leader's life and legacy. Observed each year on the third Monday in January as "a day on, not a day off," MLK Day is the only federal holiday designated as a national day of service to encourage all Americans to volunteer to improve their communities.

Please join Student Life and the Student Ambassadors for Diversity and Inclusion as they come together to celebrate the MLK Day of Service by picking up trash. We will observe all safety precautions, as we will all be outside, with masks on and at least six feet apart.

There will also be a virtual option for those unable to participate in person or those on other campuses. Details for that opportunity are upcoming.

Please RSVP at <https://ttuhsc.campuslabs.com/engage/event/6633906>. Contact Doris Hereford at 806-743-6489 if you have any questions.

These notes of gratitude will be on display for all of the employees, patients, nurses, and doctors to see while walking through. During this time of uncertainty, we are hopeful that the gratitude cards will help raise spirits during these trying times and show that even with all of the chaos that has filled our world, there are still many reasons to be grateful.

2021 EPIC Day - Office of Interprofessional Education

Register today for 2021 E.P.I.C. Day, Emergency Preparedness in communities, brought to you by the Office of Interprofessional Education at Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center.

E.P.I.C. Day is a fun-filled, virtual event that will focus on Interprofessional Collaboration and Teamwork as it looks at how as health care professions we can respond to public health emergencies as they happen in the communities we serve. Students will be assigned to an interprofessional response team. Within those teams, students will collaborate together in determining an appropriate plan of action based on the needs of the community while coordinating with other resources with the other various teams during a tornado.

E.P.I.C. Day is approved through the IPE Registry and all participating students will receive a certificate that can be used towards the IPE curriculum graduation requirements.
